Map your crop from satellite ?

Use satellite imagery to visualise the crop variation within your fields. New images are added as soon as they become available during the growing season. Furthermore, you can easily create variation maps and prescription files to control the application rate of your fertilizer spreader or sprayer. Zoom into your field by using the search box to find your location! The background map is there to help you find your field and has nothing to do with current satellite imagery.

Everything is going digital

- But that doesn't mean hi-tech for the user
- Lots coming down the line regarding CAP
- As always think about T&C before signing up
